Title: Quest Information

Author: Kanmare

This text is here to start thee on thine Quest in case thou didst miss the initial session.

Take with thee a book, quill and ink that thou mayst pen thy Tome as given by those who know it better than we.

Simply stand before the Symbol of the Principle best fitting this month, at this place, then speak aloud its name and thine quest shall commence.

To hand in thine completed Tome of Love, you must be here on either the Feast of Valentine (14th February) 3pm to 7pm or the following day (15th February) from 9am to 12pm.

Books will be accepted at these times only. Prizes will be individually given to those who have a correct and complete Tome and can answer some questions either about its contents or the location of parts of it.

You need not be here the whole time but please have some patience and know that every effort will be made to have the process run as smoothly as possible.

Restriction: Only one prize will be conferred per account (yes we can tell)

This restriction has been placed so that everyone who wishes to complete the quest will have a chance to receive their prize.

Please be understanding.
